

Company news

CRIF acquires D&B Italy

Credit information provider CRIF has recently announced the acquisition of the Italian branch of Dun & Bradstreet (D&B), which has had a presence in Italy since the late 1960s. Today it operates in Italy with approximately 230 staff, more than 4,500 customers and it includes a database containing information on over 4 million Italian businesses.

This acquisition is aimed at creating value for both CRIF and D&B customers.

CRIF is already present in the business information sector through its website CRIBIS.it, which provides reports and information on any Italian business and on more than 50 million companies in 230 countries worldwide.